Who are we?

Bespoke Training Systems Limited is a vibrant and pro-active content development consultancy. Through understanding client's individual needs we constantly strive to produce high quality e-learning and computer based learning materials - such as Computer Based Training (CBT) and Computer Aided Instruction (CAI).

Who have we worked with?

BTS have produced content for a variety of platforms which have been successfully deployed around the world. We can cater for a variety of content requirements, from simple presentations, through to highly interactive CAI/CBT and multi-mode courseware. We endeavour to deliver the highest quality content and meet or exceed the high expectations of our clients every time!

The highly experienced BTS team have created successful, sustainable and effective solutions for an array of organisations, varying from armed forces and government bodies to large corporations and institutions:

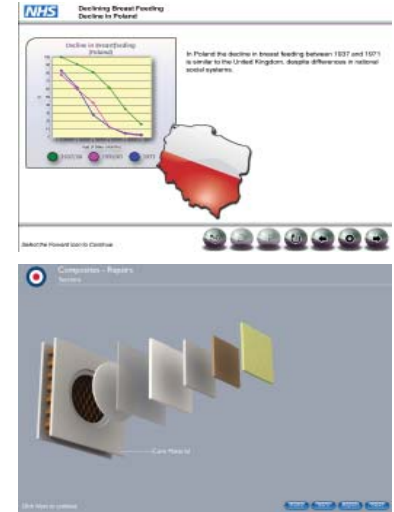

Bespoke or Generic?

At Bespoke Training Systems we pride ourselves on our ability to produce tailor made solutions to satisfy our clients' requirements. In addition to this we have also worked in co-operation with other organisations to create a variety of generic learning content covering a range of topics to the same exceptional standards as our bespoke packages.

Current areas of speciality include:

- Healthcare
- Financial
- Aircraft Systems & Engineering.

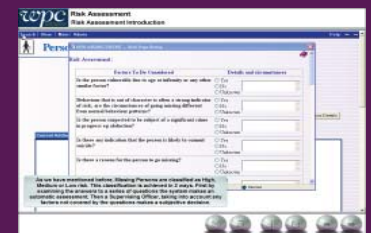

The BTS team have undertaken projects on behalf of the following companies and organisations:

BTS have had the privilege to have produced work for the following nations' armed forces:
